Future Careers Established

Health Careers was open to any student who was interested in any health related career. The club met once a month, usually the fourth Monday of every month. The programs at each meeting usually consisted of a business meeting followed by a speaker in a health related field, a film, or a visit to a nearby nursing home. At the end of the year the club presented a gift for the clinic to the school at the annual Awards assembly in the spring.

In order to become acquainted with the teaching field, members of FTA offered their services as assistants to various teacher's classes and received first-hand knowledge of a teacher's job.

Projects were as follows: the giving of favors to the teachers during National Education Week, which was ended with a tea for the faculty, a paper drive to raise funds, and valentine treats for the teachers.

Shield Sponsors Twinkie Contest

Hard work and talent were the two main ingredients for putting together the nine issues of Shield. Advised by Mrs. Nancy Schwan, the small staff of 12 managed to include sports coverages, monthly columns, current school events, silly stories, plus more in the four-page paper.

Despite the work behind the writing and drawing for each issue and rush to meet mailing deadlines, there was still time for laughs. The most unforgettable "fun" time was the twinkie wrapper and twinkie eating contest held during November and December.

Having one of the best football teams in the recent history, the Dukers were contenders in each game until the final gun. With a few more breaks, the Dukers could have won many more ball games. Head coach, Ed Marshall, and assistants Bob Hinchliffe, Alan Andreani, Denny Turner, Dale Herbert, and Ray Young deserve much of the credit for the Dukers success.

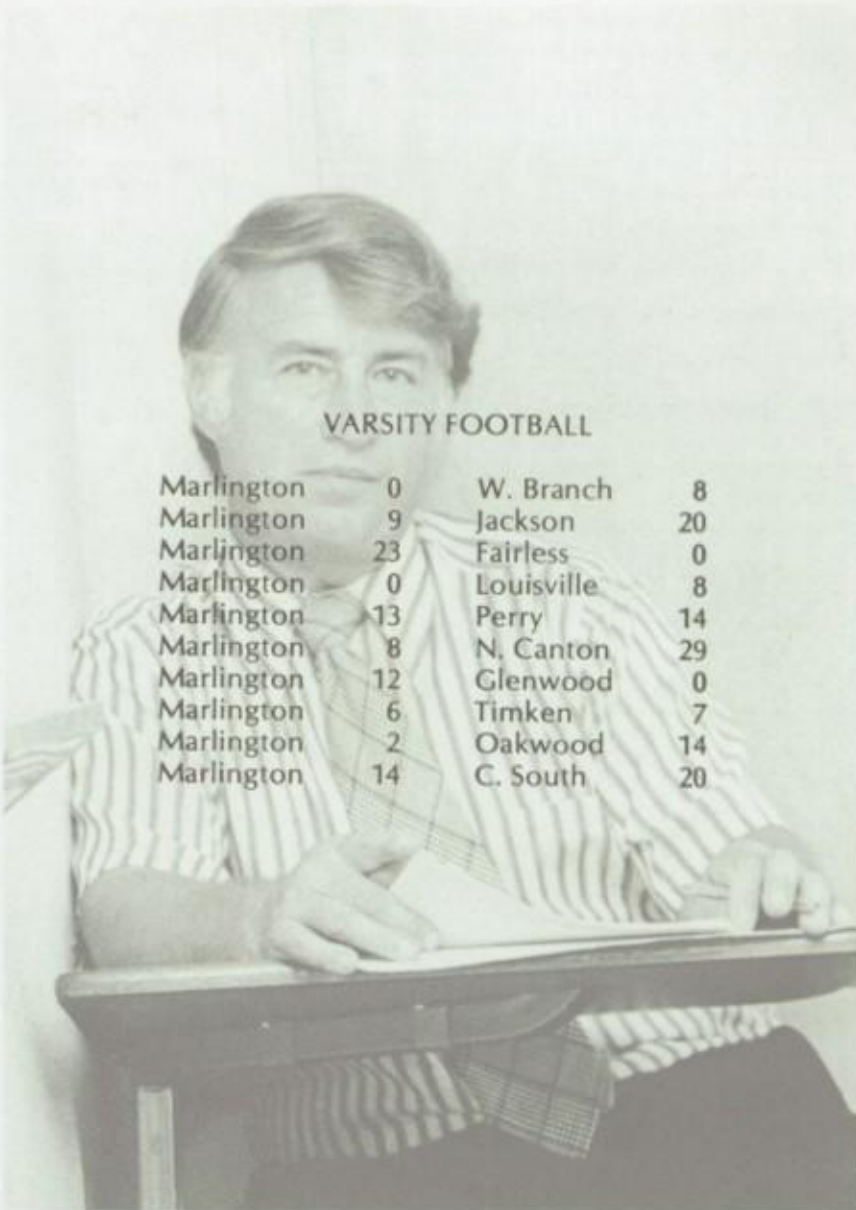

Led by a group of experienced seniors, the Duke defensive corps held opposing teams to an average of ten points per game and recorded shut-outs over Fairless and Glenwood. Mark Ulbricht led the team in tackles and received the MVP award for his efforts.

The Duke offense was respectable with an average gain per play of 3.79 yards. Scott Davies led all rushers with a grand total of 313 yards for an average of 4.9 yards per carry. Other leading ball carriers were seniors Jim Sponseller with 283 total yards and Tim Hoover with a 234 yard total. In the passing department, quarterback Doug Miller passed for five touchdowns including an 89 yard bomb to Andy Hanzel against Fairless. Hanzel led the team in pass receptions with 35 grabs for 583 yards.

Mark Ulbricht, Harry Varner and Andy Hanzel were named to the first teams of the Alliance Review area team and the All-Federal team. Ulbricht was also voted to the first All-County Team.

Ending the season on a winning note, the squad nipped Glenwood by one point in overtime and edged Jackson by two points on the last weekend of the season.

Several new records were set by individuals on the team. Dave Sherman set a new season record in rebounding, while Brad Johnson set marks in season recoveries and assists.

About 3/4 of the way through the season the two teams were combined to make a tournament team. This squad finished the regular season with great success in beating some fine ball clubs.

The first tournament game rolled around and it was with Northwest. The Fighting Frosh had a resounding victory over the Indians in beating them 54 to 35.

The second tournament game was against Edison Jr. High and the Dukes went down to the hands of defeat in a well fought game by the score of 37 to 26.

All in all the season was filled with experience and plenty of excitement.

Cheerleaders Spark Enthusiasm

Besides having fun, being a cheerleader took time and hard work. The cheerleaders started their practices in July and met almost every day before school started.

Using their imaginative minds the cheerleaders made up many of their sketches, skits, and slogans.

Money making projects included selling shampoo, ribbons, and flags. The money was used to buy T-shirts for senior guys, the fee for camp, and, new sweaters for basketball.

The cheerleaders also decorated the athletes lockers and sometimes ordered cakes for the big games.

October 10 was a nerve-wracking day for many students in the school. It was the day school elections were held. Among the victorious were juniors: Teresa Breiding—class president, Rod Miller—vice president, Mel McMinn—secretary, and Pat Wulf—treasurer, who will work with Mrs. Shirley Welsh, the class adviser. Four junior student council members were also elected: Dana Fox, Jeff Ream, Mike Rosen, and Sandy Bahler.

In anticipation of graduation and college, many juniors took the national PSAT/NMSQT which rates the students in math and verbal abilities.

The junior/senior prom was planned and carried out by members of the junior class. It was held on May 17.

The class of '76 participated in many other activities to contribute to the success of the year.

School Experiences Shortages?

Snow, Twinkies, and Heat

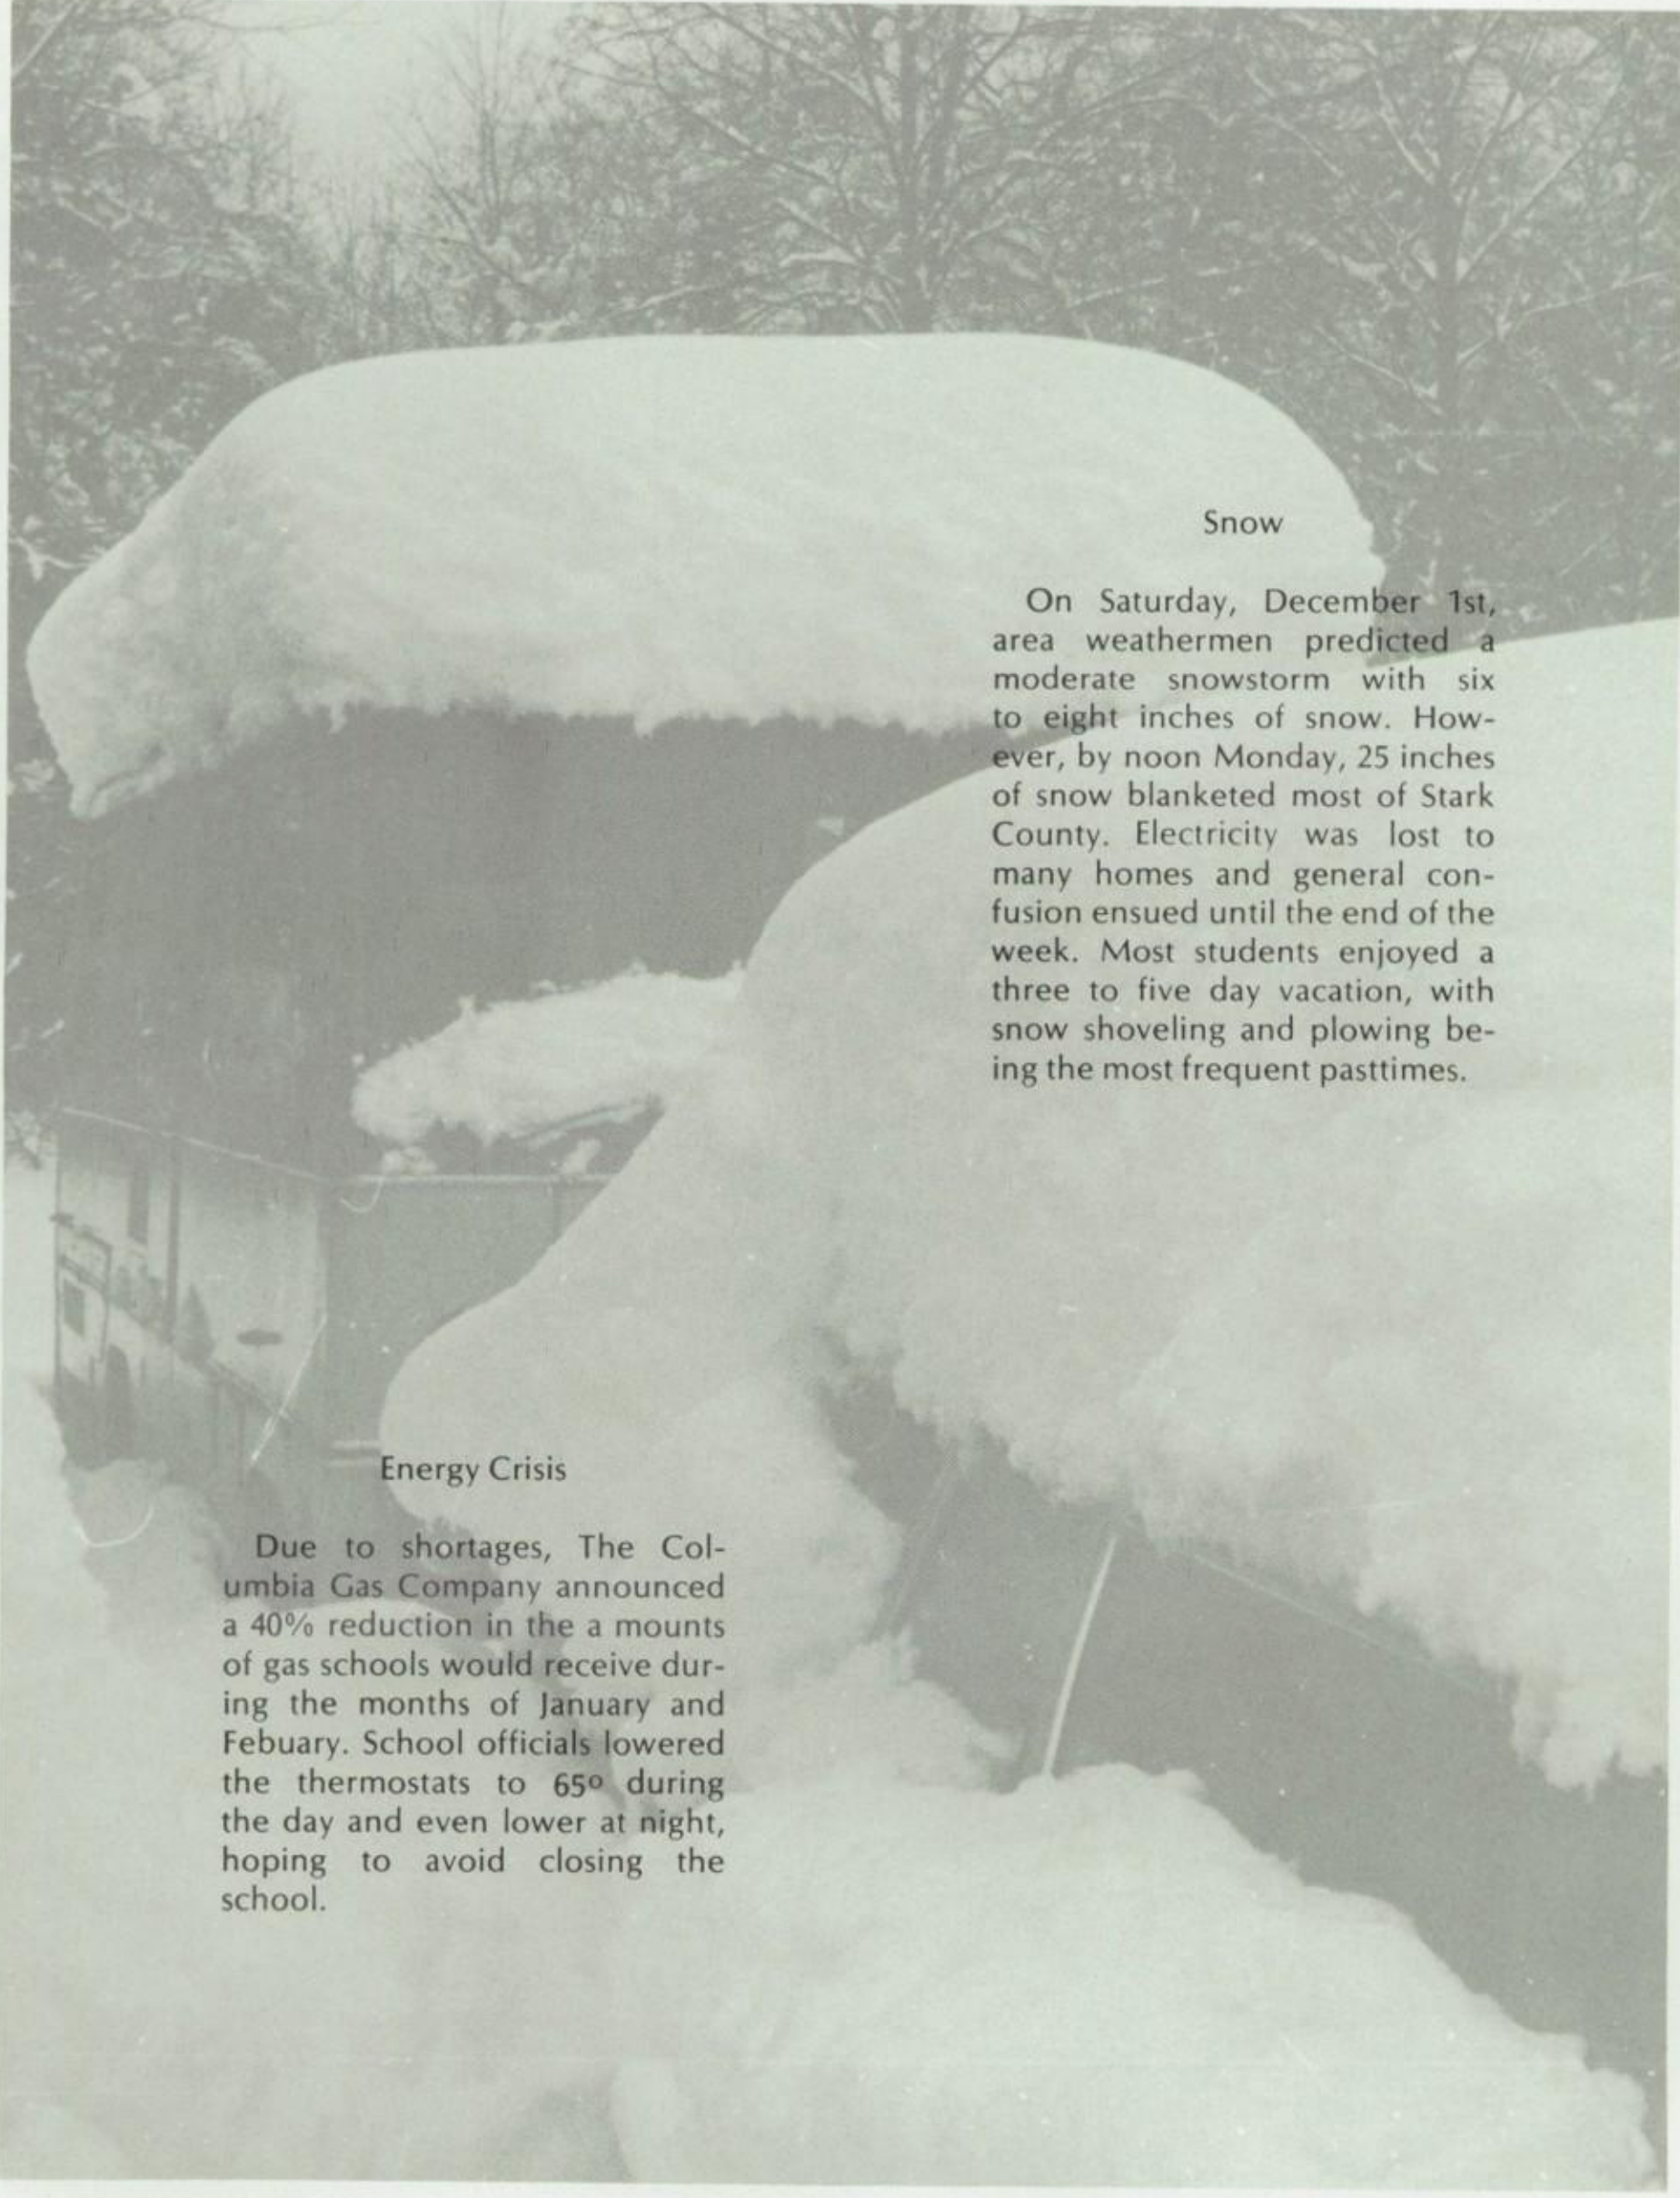

Twinkie Contest

The Hostess Company sponsored a contest to see which high school could collect the most Twinkie wrappers. Marlinton defeated other northeastern Ohio schools by collecting 7,809 of the wrappers, meaning that over 15,000 of the cream-filled cakes were consumed in a little over a month's time. For winning the Twinkie Contest the school received a ticket for each student and teacher to a Cleveland Cavaliers game and on February, 8 the musical group, Brother Love, was provided for a dance.

The highlight of the contest was our own Twinkie eating contest, in which senior representative, Bruce Geiselman, devoured sixteen Twinkies in the allotted time period to take the championship.

School Spirit

School spirit has been great this past basketball season. The team was spurred on to many victories through enthusiastic student rallies and the vigorous work of the coaches cheerleaders, pep band and sign painters. Huge crowds of Marlinton students, parents and teachers followed the team through their 12 victories and right to tournament where they supported them to the very end.

Snow

On Saturday, December 1st, area weathermen predicted a moderate snowstorm with six to eight inches of snow. However, by noon Monday, 25 inches of snow blanketed most of Stark County. Electricity was lost to many homes and general confusion ensued until the end of the week. Most students enjoyed a three to five day vacation, with snow shoveling and plowing being the most frequent pasttimes.

Energy Crisis

Due to shortages, The Columbia Gas Company announced a 40% reduction in the amounts of gas schools would receive during the months of January and February. School officials lowered the thermostats to 65° during the day and even lower at night, hoping to avoid closing the school.

National Happenings

Because of the problems concerning Watergate, Richard Nixon resigned his office as President of the United States. Shortly thereafter, Gerald Ford took office as the first nonelected president in the history of the country. Ford was now the leader of a country with a stumbling economy and with people that tended to distrust governmental procedures. It remains to be seen whether he can overcome these serious problems.

A tragedy to many men, Watergate has actually proved the U.S. system of government works and helped to strengthen it.

Gerald Ford, the first president to acquire the office through presidential resignation, has promised complete openness with the public and to do his best to get the nation on a better economic track. Tax rebates are coming for the people to spend on American goods while the prices of gasoline continue to rise. People have been asked to conserve energy sources any way possible and most people believe enough in their country that they have at least tried to help.

The Freshman made their first year at Marlinton a memorable one. At the beginning of the year, Frosh elected class officers and student council members. The Class officers supported the class in money-making projects and a dance. Freshmen student council members represented the Frosh at meetings by contributing ideas and their time. The Freshmen participated in many activities such as sports, cheerleading, chorus, and even the twinkie eating contest.

The flag corps were added this year to the marching band. The members worked many hard hours during marching season, to add variety and diversification to the half-time and pre-game shows. Accuracy and timing were important for the members of the flag corps.

Mr. Frenz receives birthday wishes from Junior-Senior band members.

Mr. Terren Frenz made one major change with concert band. Instead of hearing one large band, Mr. Frenz split them into two smaller groups. The concert bands presented two concerts, one in November and one in February. The bands also participated in a contest at Dover on March 15. The smaller solo and ensemble groups took part in contests held at Marlinton High School.

The pep band played a large part in the winning basketball season. The band spurred the players and the fans on with such tunes as "Rock Around the Clock", "Hey Jude", and the theme from "Hawaii Five-O".

The Last Game

For our class the time is now, the end it is more near,
With several months that are past, it's again that time of year.
We have reached the point where
we must go,
Since this will be our last halftime
show.
There've been four great years
where we've learned a lot,
Along with the memories which will never be forgot.
For in the months that we have left, before we shall be done,
We will do again the many things that have given us so much fun.
And even though we leave this year with a different amount of regret,
We will have ahead more challenges for us that must be met.
So since this year will soon be stopped by a turn of life's time
dial,
We'll be looking ahead as well as back, through tears but with a smile.

Administration Earns Respect

Mrs. Bernice Cassidy continues the syndrome of paper work.

Mr. Floyd Walter, Mr. Earl Cunningham, Miss Donna Brandon.

The Board of Education consisted of five members who were assisted by the clerk. They were elected by the people of the Marlinton District. Each officer served a term of four years. News officers were elected alternately every two years. In this way, at no time did the school board have all new members. Public meetings were held on the second Tuesday of every month. The members on the school board had to approve of what the superintendent recommended before it could be passed. Some of the school board's duties were the approving of new taxes or bond levies, and deciding how the school's money should be spent. The members who were on the Board of Education were Dale Freshley, president, Floyd Walters, vice president, Bernice Cassidy, clerk, and Earl Cunningham, Don McAllister, and Donna Brandon.

The principals' work involved the supervision of the over-all operation of the school. Mr. Gordon Rinehart, principal, was assisted by Mr. James Turner and Mr. Raymond Asher.

Mr. Rinehart was in charge of all programs and took full responsibility of the high school as well as filling out many reports for the district. Mr. Turner was responsible for all attendance, master scheduling and the disciplining of sophomores and seniors. Mr. Asher was in charge of the disciplining of freshman and juniors, aiding in the supervision of building maintenance, and all announcements. The many jobs of the principals overlapped as they worked together to form a smooth running system.

Counselors Devote Effort

Looking through the window into the guidance office, it isn't hard to see that this is a busy place.

Counselors did a great many things that went unnoticed other than counseling. They scheduled students, tested aptitude and interests, and informed students of college tests and entrance requirements. Mr. Melvin Snode, Mr. Thomas Hazen, Mrs. Barbara Bussard, and Mrs. Helen France also counseled students about academic and personal problems and interests in groups as well as individually.

The "Stark County College Night," which was held October 22, and "Vocational Day," which was held in the spring were two programs the counselors helped with. The preparation of these special events were very beneficial to students.

The Production field of vocational agriculture included soil, plant and animal science. Students operated co-ops in which they raised livestock and they also managed the school farm of 150 acres. Mr. Kay Vaughn stresses an important point.

The various jobs of the Custodians were limitless. Keeping school in order involved many tasks including the heating, cleaning, and maintenance of this system. They did other jobs such as shoveling snow during the winter, repairing lockers and lights, and they even changed an occasional flat tire. Some unusual facts about the custodians are the following:

Two of the custodians have firemen's licenses so they are able to operate the boiler for heating the school.

They have also acted as shoe cobbler by fixing students shoes that had suddenly fallen apart or acted as watchmen for the boiler to see it is going to work properly the following day.

They had 1500 bosses at Marlinton as they tried to do whatever the faculty or students asked of them during their eight hour job.

The Cooks prepared a well-balanced lunch each day, which students could purchase for $.45. They also operated an al carte line for the second year. This line served a variety of food from which students could select their lunches.

As we look back over the year, it is hard for us to put our feelings into words. Many times we complained about all the time we spent on the book, when we could have been doing other things. But now we realize that it's all been worth it. Putting out a yearbook is not as easy a job as we thought, but with the support of many, our task has been completed.

There are many we need to thank: Mr. Jim Buckman, Josten's American Yearbook Company, Troup and Pluto Studios, the student body, and the teachers and administration for their patience and understanding with us. A very special thanks to everyone on our staff for their hard work and understanding and to Mrs. Janet Spencer for her many lost lunches over the book.

Our short year with this job has given us memories we always will treasure.
